Hi mate,

Hope your well.

I'm great just down in Algeria with the minister of energy, looks like at long last we are going to win some business here...

China/Russia should be complete very soon, Shell are doing the shipping and have been promised that the bloody Americans will allow us to trade, its been a nightmare with these sanctions. As one of the russians said today, looks like the US is now more interested in islamic state and Ebola than the Ukraine, I hope so as this should have been a simple transaction!

Still, be done soon. Hope the construction projects are coming on well.

We need to get a big yacht to compete next year.

Take care and speak soon

N
